OVERVIEW OF THE FUNCTIONS OF THE POST

The incumbent, under the overall authority of Ms Mmantsetsa Marope, Director of the IBE, will conduct a comparative content analysis of national curricula in natural sciences, using a code book on the process of being developed, and compile a summary report.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

EDUCATION

Background or a major in natural sciences. Master degree in education, preferably curriculum and/or pedagogy, a PhD in education would be a significant advantage. Master degree, or higher, in research method would also be considered.

SKILLS/COMPETENCIES

- Qualitative research skills
- Experience in coding text to identify key concepts under study
- Excellent analytical and communication skills
- Prior experience as research assistant and/or qualitative research
- Prior experience with content analysis
- Ability to deliver on target
- Capacity to work effectively in teams and in a multicultural working environment

LANGUAGES

- Excellent English reading and writing skills

BENEFITS AND ENTITLEMENTS

Please note that this internship is unpaid. The intern is responsible for all expenses related to the internship, including lodging, meals and transportation to and from Geneva. The intern must be self-insured through a medical provider.

HOW TO APPLY

To apply, please send a letter of application and your CV in UNESCO’s preferred format, in English, by email to ibe.administration@unesco.org

Application files should reach the IBE before midnight (Geneva time) on 24th April 2020.

Only candidates selected for interview will be contacted.