2009 world AIDS day

Stop AIDS. Keep the promise.

Access for all to HIV prevention, treatment, care and support is a critical part of human rights.

The 1st December marks 2009 world AIDS day. This year the theme is Human Rights and Universal Access. The theme has been chosen to address the critical need to protect human rights and ensure universal access to HIV prevention, treatment, care and support. The day is also a call to countries to remove laws that discriminate against people living with HIV, women and marginalized groups.
